

PRINCE DE LANDIAS SUES FOR $100,000

Is a Real Bishop, He Asserts, in Seeking Cash From
F. Cunliffe-Owen.

HIGH CHURCHMEN NAMED

Statements made by E. Cunliffe-Owen, author and publisher, to Bishop Greer, Dr. William T. Manning, Bishop Rhinelander of Pennsylvania and others as to the genuineness of the temporal and ecclesiastical titles of Bishop Prince de Landias resulted in a suit for $100,000 damages filed in the Supreme Court here yesterday against Mr. Cunliffe-Owen by the Bishop Prince. The plaintiff alleges that the statements have caused him to be rejected in Protestant Episcopal Church circles, although he has been licensed as a priest of the Anglican Church of America in the diocese of New Jersey.

The plaintiff's full name as given in the complaint is Rodolphe Francois Gabriel Hamilton de Lorraine de Landias Berghes St. Winock. His attorney, Arthur A. Mitchell, said yesterday that the Prince is related to his mother's side to Alexander Hamilton.

The complaint alleges that the plaintiff, who has shortened his name to Bishop de Landias Berghes, was created on June 15, 1913, as regent Bishop of Scotland of the Old Roman Catholic Western Orthodox Church and that he has always been a "bonafide" Christian gentleman and servant of God and one to whom the affairs of a bishopric, temporal and spiritual, could be safely entrusted.

The plaintiff alleges that he has been recognized by the Anglican Church in the United States and by the Holy Eastern Orthodox Church, with which the branch of the church was united in 1911. He says that on January 12, 1915, on the invitation of Bishop Greer and after an examination of his ecclesiastical and other credentials he took part in the consecration in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine of the Rev. Hiram H. Hulse as Missionary Bishop of Cuba.

Letter a Part of Complaint.

The complaint charges that on March 15 last the defendant maliciously composed a false and libelous letter concerning him which he sent to Bishop Rhinelander, in Philadelphia. This letter, which forms a part of the complaint, was written in answer to a note from Bishop Rhinelander in regard to a newspaper article by Cunliffe-Owen about the plaintiff. The letter warns Bishop Rhinelander "most strongly" against giving any countenance whatever to the so-called Prince de Berghes Landias, and the writer enclosed a clipping of the article he caused to be published about the Bishop. The letter went on:

"Since writing it I have had him questioned by some very sharp and clever reporters whom I had primed with inquiries. He got terribly flustered, feared to show resentment with regard to the imputation of fraud and convinced them—and afterward me—that he is no other than the Andries Aarzel Albertus McLaughlin mentioned in the article, who has a very unsavory record."

Mr. Cunliffe-Owen wrote that if the plaintiff is the man who formerly styled himself in connection with Claremont he was frequently exposed by the London newspapers in connection with philanthropic and religious swindles, "by means of which he obtained large sums from the credulous." This letter then says:

"If he was really consecrated by the disreputable old Catholic 'Archbishop' Matthews, pseudo 'Earl of Landias', such a thing as his religious title would be void in the eyes of the Roman Catholic Church by reason of his episcopal apostasy. But all the clergy of the Roman Catholic Church are factually suspended by Rome and prohibited from celebrating mass or administering sacraments. I have this from my very dear friend Cardinal Farley, who I had warned my mutual good friend Matthews and he had warned Greer the man found Brodsky and New York too hot for him and vainly. If he is cutting any ice in Philadelphia in his present pose, I will put the newspapers into him."

Disseminated to Clergy.

The plaintiff says that subsequently Bishop Rhinelander got permission to make such use of the letter as he saw fit and that it was disseminated to the Protestant Episcopal clergy and others. The complaint charges that the statements are all false, as were the statements in the article which was published under the name of "The Bishop of Landias." The plaintiff says also that the article published by another newspaper, headed "Ancient Prince de Berghes Landias," in which Mr. Cunliffe-Owen referred to the clergy of the Roman Catholic Church as "disreputable old Catholic 'Archbishop' Matthews," and that the dual house of Berghes and House of French, Flemish and Dutch as "disreputable old Catholic 'Archbishop' Matthews," have been extinct with the death in 1907 of Ghislain, Prince and Duke de Berghes.

The writer said also that he knew that the last two princes and dukes of Berghes and House of French, Flemish and Dutch, who were the last of the line, were the plaintiff "got his consecration not from the old Catholic Bishops in the French Kingdom, but from a Bishop out at Antioch, which Antioch is particularly evil name in connection with the episcopal monitors of the solidus Right Reverend Most Reverend Lord Archbishop of Antioch and Armenian ex-patriation."

The Archbishop Checkman's full name is also given in the complaint as Charles Albert McLaughlin, self-styled Bishop McLaughlin, is a native of Cape Cod and of mixed Scotch and Dutch lineage, with a slight strain of Zulu blood in his veins, and a former private in the Thirty-second Infantry of the Regular Army.

Bishop Prince de Landias Berghes contends that Mr. Cunliffe-Owen has misled him for another person, who called his name McLaughlin and whose credentials are of the highest order. He says he is the son of his mother's father, Mr. Cunliffe-Owen has misled him that fact in stating that the dual line is extinct.

$500,000 WILLED TO TUFTS.

Dr. F. S. Pearson, Lusitania Victim, Left Estate of Many Millions.

Boston, July 12.—Dr. Fred S. Pearson, a Lusitania victim, left $500,000 to Tufts College, according to his will, filed for probate in Pittsfield today. The Lowell General Hospital and the House of Mercy in Pittsfield each receive $50,000.

No inventory has been filed showing the amount of Massachusetts property but it is understood that Dr. Pearson left an estate worth many millions. The residue was left to two sons and a daughter. Dr. Pearson was a graduate of Tufts, class of 1882, and was a college trustee.

L. P. WARD ESTATE $786,487.

Inventory Filed in the Surrogate's Office at Newark.

NEWARK, N. J., July 12.—An inventory of the estate of Leslie P. Ward, who died at Waybridge, England, last January, was filed in the Surrogate's office here today. It shows the value of the estate to be $786,487. The bulk of it goes to his widow.

Mr. Ward was a son of Dr. Leslie D. Ward, who was vice-president of the Prudential Insurance Company. The inventory was filed by the Fidelity Trust Company and Wilbur S. Johnson as executor and representative of the estate. It was necessary for the executor to send its solicitor, Francis Laflerty, to England to get the necessary proofs of the will before the document could be probated here.

WILLS AND APPRAISALS.

PHILIP HARNISFELDER, who was an Alderman from The Bronx, left a gross estate of $57,175 and a net estate of $26,388 to his widow, a son and daughter. He owned 250 shares of the A. P. West Company, contractors, valued at $12,440.

SAUL DEICHES, who died October 3, 1911, and owned a number of clothing stores in New York and Pennsylvania, left $47,209 in New York. He gave $1 to his sister, Regina Lax, and left the remainder of the estate in trust to his wife, Augusta Deches. One of his sons, William A. Deches, Pa., was killed by the flood there on September 30, 1911, four days before he died.

PLAYS WITHOUT WORDS.

Novelties of the Week in the Motion Picture Houses.

Charlotte Walker is making her first appearance in the films at the Strand Theatre this week in Charles Kenyon's play "Kindling," formerly a vehicle for Margaret Livingston. The piece displays the dramatic qualities linked so closely with Miss Walker's stage career. There is, in addition, the usual music program and some special films.

The new picture at the Vitaphone Theatre is "The Scoundrel," a comedy play, an exposition against the drug habit. Chapter ten of "The Goddess" is also on view with the Vitaphone's young star, Anita Stewart, assisted by Earle Brown and other comedians. There are a number of comedy films as well.

Blanche Sweet is appearing in "The Clue" at the Broadway Theatre. This is a comedy play, and there are also some comedy reels and an attractive music program.

D. W. Griffith's film spectacle, "The Birth of a Nation," at the Liberty Theatre keeps on breaking all records of the season for a continuous motion picture production.

VAUDEVILLE AND BURLESQUE.

New Programmes on the Variety Stages This Week.

Adelaide and Hughes are heading the bill at the Palace Theatre this week, instead of Beale Clayton, who was replaced by Beale Clayton. The new program is headed by Edward Davies. Others on the programme are the Regent Four, Bert and Betty, comedian John Hayes and the Regent Four. The new program is headed by Edward Davies. Others on the programme are the Regent Four, Bert and Betty, comedian John Hayes and the Regent Four.

Lew Kelly and the Behman Show players began their twelfth week at the Columbia Theatre yesterday. The entertainment with its varied forms of burlesque and vaudeville interspersed with satires on the present day catom continues to prove of interest to good sized audiences.

SALOONLESS COUNTRY IN 1920 IS C. E. SLOGAN

Liquorless World in 1930 Is Also Endeavorers' Plan

—Wilson Praised.

CHICAGO, July 12.—Resolutions demanding that all church workers unite to procure a saloonless United States, as well as peace among the belligerent nations of Europe, were adopted at the Christian Endeavor convention to-night at the final session at the Coliseum. Although they outline a mighty task, each delegate present was convinced that their efforts will bear fruit in whole or part.

Following is the text of the resolutions adopted:

"That this time of grievous and world trouble the Christian Endeavor convention rejoice in the President of the United States, Woodrow Wilson. With statesmanlike mind and Christian heart he has held the feet of the nation from the path of war and is striving for the righteous peace that shall not pass away. That the Christian Endeavor delegates assembled from a score of countries, representing the 3,000,000,000 young people of the Christian churches, with the assurance of its continued intercessory prayers, sends this expression of gratitude. The piece displays the dramatic qualities linked so closely with Miss Walker's stage career. There is, in addition, the usual music program and some special films.

DIPPEL TO BRING OVER THE GREAT AND ONLY BERNARDI

News Hailed in All the Tongues of Vaudeville—Costumers Now Grumbling—U. B. O. to Put Big Question Up to Actors.

Wherever two or three vaudeville agencies have gathered together the past six months their talk—especially if they had foreign affiliations—always has been of the great Bernardi. With bated breath they discussed the probabilities of this great man's appearance here. Now that there is war in Europe it was thought the most famous vaudeville performer on the Continent might be persuaded to come over here for less than the preposterous sum he has always demanded. Sarah Bernhardt once said that her price for acting in Germany would be Alsace-Lorraine. It is true that she later accepted less exacting terms, and there may have been some similar change in the case of Bernardi.

At all events, Longacre Square was shaken yesterday by the news that Bernardi at last had been secured for this country. In many languages the thrilling news shot from Shanley's to the south to the Columbia Theatre on the north. It was generally murmured that the great Bernardi, known to the vaudeville world by 1920, would be secured for this country. In many languages the thrilling news shot from Shanley's to the south to the Columbia Theatre on the north. It was generally murmured that the great Bernardi, known to the vaudeville world by 1920, would be secured for this country.

The fact is that Andreas Dippel has engaged the artist for a tour of this country. He is the best known music hall singer of Europe. He does an act similar to those of Fregoli and De Vries. He is known professionally as an "illusionist" and represents many characters. He will not act in the vaudeville theatres here, but will be sent about the country with a company giving vaudeville and comic opera.

In spite of the present activity of the managers there is some probability that many enterprises originally planned for the early season will be postponed. A well known customer was lamenting his disappointments to a SUN reporter yesterday.

"The next convention will be held in New York in 1917."

MAYOR TO SPEAK AT COLUMBIA.

at Informal Reception.

Mayor Mitchell will make an address before the students of the Columbia summer session to-night at an informal reception in the gymnasium at the university. Dr. Butler will preside and welcome the students to their six weeks stay on Morningside Heights. This is the first time in several years that Dr. Butler has been present during any part of the summer session, his summers usually being passed abroad.

One of the interesting features of the summer session is the singing of folk songs under the guidance of Peter W. Dykema of the University of Wisconsin.

MRS. OELRICHS ACTS AS NEWPORT BILLPOSTER

Advertises Fashion's Passing Show to Be Held at Rosecliff.

NEWPORT, July 12.—Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs proved herself to be a live publicity agent today when she started out to bill this city and vicinity with posters for Fashion's Passing Show, which she will give at Rosecliff on July 24. She not only used her own auto, but borrowed several others to cover the country. The posters are attractive, but there was one objection to the road. Mrs. Oelrichs refused to let the posters be placed in the hands of the various managers in the possibilities of similar pieces. They have the great advantage of economy in certain details of production since they require no chorus. The same collaborators are going to supply such a piece to John Cort, who will open the Cort Theatre with it in the early autumn.

Eleanor Paolter, who made such a strong success last winter in "The Lighthouse," will have the leading role. It is interesting to recall that when Miss Paolter came here from Germany, she was the first woman to appear in the United States. She was the first woman to appear in the United States. She was the first woman to appear in the United States.

The action of the United Booking Office in reducing the compensation of the vaudeville and other actors who are under their management and appear simultaneously with the exhibition of picture plays in which they figure is the most radical move so far made by any of the theatre managers to protect themselves against the moving picture enterprise. Victor Moore and Mrs. Leslie H. Carter were among the actors who have been offered the best salaries, both among the grown people and children.
